

Toward Community: How Close Are We?

Thursday, September 19, 7 to 9 p.m.

UW-Fox Valley, 1478 Midway Road, Menasha

In 1993, an organization was started to promote acceptance, fight racism, and bring people from diverse cultures together. How close are we to being a community, a place where people truly celebrate differences?

Join us for an educational, 20-year anniversary celebration of Toward Community: Unity In Diversity.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

- First person stories of life in the Fox Cities from members of the Hmong, Hispanic, African American, Jewish, Indian, and gay communities.
- Guitar and vocal performances from Tony Gonzalez, Erica Hamilton, and Socorro Rivera.
- Reception with food and beverages to close out the evening.
